SUCCESSFUL MUSICAL RECITAL

A record crowd of music lovers attended the recital staged at the Orpheum Theatre last night by the piano and violin pupils of Miss Madeleine Chardon and Mr. W. H. Moser. It was the fourth annual and throughout the best recital yet held. The programme occupied upwards of two and a half hours and was in part as follows:

"Arrival," violin quartette by Cecil Johnson, Joe Morgan, James Patterson and Evan Gashli; "Wooden Shoe Dance" by Rose Oliver; "Dance of the Clowns" by Frank Lamey (Bellevue), "Berceuse" and "Valse Marionettes" by George Kerr (winner of Dominion medal for Elementary in Toronto this year), "On The Ice" by Douglas Moores (Coleman), "Wintery Wind" by Wilma Wheatcroft, "Knight Rupert" by Margaret Murray, "Chanson Orientale" and "Berceuse" by Jean Cruickshank, of Hillcrest (winner of the Dominion medal for Primary in the Toronto Conservatory examinations this year), "Gay Butterfly" by Jean Upton, "Japanese Sunset" by Isobel Westrup (Hillcrest), vocal solo by Mr. A. B. McMurdo, of Pincher Creek (winner of bass solo at the Alberta Musical Festival this year), "Chorus from Iphigenie in Tauris" by the following quartette: Mamie Hamilton, George Kerr, Ronald Johnson and Lorraine Olivier, "In The Cave" by Lorna Hales, "Augustine" by Dickie Morgan, "Butterflies Wink Their Primrose Wings" by Eleanor Aschbacher, "Doux Souvenir" and "Wing Foo" by Josie Evans, of Hillcrest (winner of the Dominion medal for Introductory class at the Toronto Conservatory examinations this year), "Playful Kittens" by Alan May, "In The Blacksmith Shop" by Beth Murray, "Merry Boleyns" by Lorraine Pierrot, "See Saw" and "Around the Camp Fire" by Gordon Swart, of Cowley (winner of the Dominion medal for Introductory class at the Toronto Conservatory examinations this year), "Wood Nymph's Harp" by Georgette Dau, "Skating" by Freda-Anthous (Coleman), vocal solo by Miss Isobel Dicken, of Fernie (winner of special open to any voice at the Crow's Nest Pass Musical Festival this year), "Aria" and "Russian Air" by a string quartette comprising: Roy Upton, Sandy Ferguson, Frank Johnson and J. E. Upton, "Hungary" by Doreen Chappell, "See Gardens" by Leona McDonald, "To a Wild Rose" and "Country Dance" by James Marshall, of Hillcrest (winner of the Dominion medal for Primary class at the Toronto Conservatory examinations this year), "Alt Wien" by Grace Wheatcroft, "Les Sylphides" by Doris Hales, "Fantasia in D Minor" by Jean Cruickshank, "Concerto in C Minor" by John Coldough, of Pincher Creek (winner of the Dominion medal for Junior class at the Toronto Conservatory examinations this year), "Etude Fantastique" by Dorothy Olivier, "Nocturne" and "Marche Grotesque" by Francis Linville, "Le Songe" and "Sirens" by Laura Freebairn, of Pincher Creek (winner of the Dominion medal for Intermediate class at the Toronto Conservatory examinations this year), "Rondo and Capriccio" and "The Island Spell" by Beatrice Trono.

The above programme was rendered in three parts, and was very much enjoyed. During an intermission, certificates were presented by Mrs. Gladys McKelvie-Egbert, of Calgary. Mrs. Egbert took occasion to comment upon the splendid work being accomplished in this district by teachers, Miss Chardon and Mr. Moser, and spoke very highly of the splendid performances of all participants in this recital.

BELLEVUE MINER

DIES FROM INJURIES

A miner named William Panchuk died on Wednesday of last week from injuries sustained by being crushed by a car near the Bellevue mine.

Panchuk was quite a young man, but had been employed at Bellevue for a number of years. He was just about to quit mining to return to his old home in Czechoslovakia, and his arrangements had so far advanced that he had already purchased his transportation ticket.

The remains were laid to rest at Bellevue on Saturday.

The inquest into the accident concluded on Friday evening before J. T. Turner as coroner. At the inquest the mines department was represented by Mr. Healey, the coal company interests by Mr. N. McDonald, and the miners' interests by J. Dugdale, the local secretary. The following verdict was returned:

"That William Panchuk died as a result of injuries caused by being struck by a car of rock on the Bellevue mine tipple of the West Canadian Collieries at about 9.45 a.m. on the 12th day of November, 1930. We attach no blame to anyone."

B. Milne (foreman), R. Jordan, A. Rhodes, E. Long, W. Brown and D. Truitt, jurors.

MRS. HIRAM CUMMING

WESTVILLE, Nov. 10.—Her many friends in Westville were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Hiram Cumming, which occurred at the B. G. Hospital, Halifax, Tuesday morning, Nov. 4th. Apparently in good health, she along with her sister, Mrs. Purvis, attended a concert in Halifax Monday evening, where she was taken ill and was at once taken to the hospital, where her death occurred. She is survived by one son Wilmet, in Boston, and one daughter, Miss Irene, who is at present in Westville; also her father, George McPherson; and three sisters, Mrs. James Crockett, Westville; Mrs. John McDonald, Picou; Mrs. Purvis, of Halifax. Mrs. Cumming, until a few years ago was a resident of Westville and for the last few months has been on the staff of the school for the blind at Halifax.

The funeral was held from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Friday afternoon, following a short family service at the home of her father, George McPherson, and was largely attended. Rev. H. Warren Allen conducted the service and was assisted by Rev. D. A. MacKinnon, of Gairloch. Her son Wilmet came here to attend the funeral.

She was born and spent the greater part of her life in Westville. Her husband predeceased her several years ago.—New Glasgow Free Lance.

[Mrs. Purvis referred to above was a former resident of Blairmore].

A number of shooting accidents, some fatal, have occurred in Alberta and British Columbia this season, all through white suits being mistaken for deer, sheep, goat, or other big game. It is time our game laws were amended so as not to require white suits to be worn. White suits are necessary in the evergreen forests of Maine and New Brunswick, but are not suited where practically white game locate around brown hills.

ers, Miss Chardon and Mr. Moser, and spoke very highly of the splendid performances of all participants in this recital.

How Women Lose Fat In England

How would you like to lose unhealthy fat that you don't need and don't want, and at the same time feel better than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your two prominent abdomens, and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal, and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales to-day and see how much you weigh—then get a bottle of Knuchen Salts. Take one-half teaspoonful every morning in a glass of hot water, and when you have finished the first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat, and you'll also know that the six vitalizing salts of Knuchen have presented you with glorious health.

That's the way Englishwomen keep slim—why not you?

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

A small sheet of the first commercial zinc produced in Manitoba was sent Mayor Webb by officials of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelter Company at Flin Flin.

Toronto's first and only woman bank bandit, 17-year-old Kathleen Boyle, of Buffalo, N.Y., sentenced last April to two years in reformatories, has been released on parole.

A stump buried through the roof of the camp building during blasting operations killed the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schunter, Sugar Lake, B.C.

With the immediate object of putting the Canadian fishing industry on its feet, Hon. E. N. Rhodes has arranged for an exhaustive survey of marketing catches at every stage from the fishermen to the consumer. Canada could aid in the economic recovery of Australia by buying more Australian goods, Lord Stonehaven, former governor-general, said in an address to the Canadian Club at Victoria.

Announcement has been made by E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., of the acquisition of a site facing Berkeley Square for the big hotel proposed to be erected by the company in London, England.

A telegram from Tientsin announced the death of Bertrand Lennox Simpson, British author, who wrote under the name of Putnam Weale, from wounds inflicted by three Chinese gunmen who invaded his house and shot him in the back.

The Prince of Wales is understood to be planning to sail for South America, January 15, on the trip which has been arranged for him to open the British Trade Exposition at Buenos Aires. He will pay visits to other parts of South America and the West Indies.

Grassy Lake Coal

Coal Obtained By Methods New To Commercial Mining In Alberta

The recent shipment of a car of high grade lump coal, billed from Grassy Lake, Alberta, to Winnipeg is of unusual interest. Apart from its marking the revival of coal shipments for Grassy Lake was shipping coal to Saskatchewan in 1906—this shipment has a special interest in that the coal was obtained by methods new to commercial mining practice in Southern Alberta. Future shipments will be watched with considerable interest.

Holstein Herd Has Good Record

Three Holstein cows, members of a herd owned by James A. Thomson of Moose Jaw, have just finished yearly records in the R.O.P. with a production averaging 13,697 pounds of milk containing 697.50 pounds of butter.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they habit for they are not permanent. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cramp and grip and leave a depressed after effect. Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy.

A purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleaned and constipation poisons pass away. The stomach, liver and bowels are now active and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c red packages.

The Deadly Monoxide

Four Points Motorists Should Remember About This Poison Gas

Every motorist who is tempted on cold mornings to start his car in the garage and allow the engine to warm up, and the doors and windows of the building closed, should remember these four points about the deadly carbon monoxide gas:

You can't see it!
You can't smell it!
You can't taste it!
But it is deadly!

Keep the doors and windows of your garage open when you have the motor running, or better still, don't let it warm up until you are in the driveway.

Don't run your motor in the closed garage. Statistics show that the hazard of carbon monoxide poisoning, while not very prevalent when compared with other accident dangers, is gaining rapidly. Last year there were more than twice as many deaths from this cause as in 1924. In 1928 and 1929 death rates from carbon monoxide poisoning showed a steady increase.

Many physicians claim there is no antidote for it. The first thing to do is to get the victim out into the air as quickly as possible, endeavour to bring him back to consciousness by means of artificial respiration and, possibly, use oxygen.

THE SMART SCHOOL GIRL TYPE

KILTED PLAID SKIRT UN-DENIABLY CHIC DETAIL

It's so entirely girlish yet so entirely sophisticated.

The slightly moulded bodice presents a trim tailored air. The neck is particularly becoming in square effect, finished with a flat collar.

Buttons down the center-front are decorative.

The skirt is given a graceful swing with wide panel effect at the front with kilted plaits at either side and back.

It's Oh! so simple to make. The outfit unbelievably small.

Style No. 916 is designed for the important age of 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

It is shown in dark green crepe patterned woolen. The buttons are green enamel to match the enameled belt buckle.

Covert cloth in wine red is very jaunty.

Dark blue wool jersey with vivid red buttons and completed with red leather belt is very smart and practical.

Some Mighty Midgets

Many Small Creatures Stronger In Comparison Than Large Ones

It has been proved that the common small can draw a load which is fifty times heavier than itself. If an elephant was as strong, in proportion to size, it would have to move nearly 270 tons.

There is only one specimen from Nature's collection of "mighty midgets" that perform in secret on land and in the sea.

Even the strongest men find it difficult to lift more than their own weight. Yet, a bluebottle fly can lift more than 30 times its own weight, while it can draw a load that is 100 times heavier than itself.

Objects which are about forty times heavier than themselves are of ten carried by the mason wasps.

You have seen those ear-splitting powerful drills which are used to tear up the road? Well, there is a mollusc, known as the piddock or pholas dactylus, which can rival their power, and is a superior worker, as it makes no noise.

Silently, but none the less efficiently, the piddock bores through the hardest rock as easily as if it were soap.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

OATMEAL COOKIES

- 1 1/2 cups special cake flour, sifted.
- 2 teaspoons baking powder.
- 1/2 teaspoon salt.
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon.
- 1 teaspoon cloves.
- 1/2 cup butter or other shortening.
- 1 cup sifted brown sugar.
- 1 egg, well beaten.
- 1 1/2 cups oatmeal.
- 1/4 cup milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream well. Add egg. Add oatmeal and flour, alternately with milk, mixing well. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 18 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

THANKSGIVING CONSERVE

- 3 cups cranberries.
- 1 cup diced apples.
- 1 1/2 cups water.
- 1 cup crushed pineapple.
- 1 lemon, juice and grated rind.
- 2 oranges, juice and grated rind.
- 2 cups sugar.

Cook cranberries and apple in the water until tender. Add pineapple, lemon and oranges and sugar. Mix well and cook rapidly until thick and clear. Turn into sterilized glasses and when cold cover with paraffin.

Evidences Of Prosperity

Times Do Not Appear To Be So Bad In This Western City

Among a number of evidences of prosperity in Edmonton, cited by "The Journal," is the fact that the number of telephones in use has increased within a year from 16,124 to 16,641, or over 500. Another evidence is that "one wholesale house in this city sold $30,000 worth of radio sets in September"—thus showing a fair volume of luxury spending.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON NOVEMBER 23 THE RICH YOUNG MAN—REFUSING A LIFE OF SACRIFICIAL SERVICE

Golden Text: "And He said unto all, 'If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me.'—Luke 9:23.

Lesson: Mark 10:17-27.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 19:7-14.

Explanations and Comments

Refusing a Life of Sacrificial Service, verses 17-23.—In Matthew the rich young man's question reads: "What good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" and Jesus' reply is, "What askest thou Me concerning that which is good?" Mark and Luke give the question as, "Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" and the reply to Jesus is, "What callest thou Me good?" None is good save one, even God. Jesus' question and his reply seem to indicate that the young man had used the word "good" (Good Master) with a little thought as to its meaning. We say "Good Morning"; Jesus would have him weigh his words and see whether he meant what he had said. If he were calling Him good in the sense in which God is good, Jesus would accept his homage. Jesus always wanted those who came to Him to know what being His disciple meant, to weigh well the consequences of such a step before entering it.

What Following Christ Means.—If this young man had made the right choice, if he had gladly agreed to give his possessions to the poor and then to come and follow Jesus, do you not think that Jesus would then have said to him, "You may keep your wealth and use it rightly, for now you are no longer under its snare, you have ceased to put it first in your thoughts, you now have room in your heart for me?"

The Choice.—The rich young man made a choice. It was a dramatic moment when the young man was face to face with a great choice. The warning which Jesus gave in regard to the difficulty of the spiritual life for the wealthy shows that the young man's decision when he turned away sorrowful, was to keep his wealth and not follow the Master. Wealth which another rightly might possess and rightly use, was for him a snare, for he kept him from following Christ. Not only did he have great possessions but the great possessions had come and gone and now he was left with a vision of God and of the needs of others.

His soul was like a boat tied fast, but tied with a long rope, said Phillips Brooks. "It was able to struggle up the channel, past headland and light and buoy that marked the way, but always something held it back from perfectly leaving the boat at rest beside the golden shore. 'What lack I yet?' And then said Jesus, 'Go and sell all that thou hast, and then thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow Me.' He said, 'It is wicked to be rich.' He only said, 'You will be free if you are poor, and then I can lead you to the Father, in whom you shall find yourself.' He went back, past the buoys and headlands, down the bay to where the rope was tied, and cut the boat loose from its anchorage."

Angus: If you've found such a valuable ring the law requires that you advertise for the owner.

Sandy: Ay, mon, and which newspaper has the smallest circulation?

SOUR STOMACH

JUST a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard anti-acid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes. Don't depend on crude methods.

Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Remember—the genuine is always a liquid. It cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips. It is always on the wrapper for your protection. Druggists everywhere have the 50c bottles.

Canadian Tobacco Production

Total 1930 Crop Given As 36,712,700 Pounds

Enough tobacco has been grown in Canada so that it distributed among the population would provide each man, woman and child with over 3 1/2 pounds. The total crop for 1930 is given as 36,712,700 pounds or nearly 7,000,000 pounds more than in 1929. This year's crop was grown on 41,391 acres, 32,170 of which were in Ontario, 9,000 in Quebec and 221 in British Columbia. Ontario accounted for 28,078,000 pounds of the total production, Quebec, 8,490,000 pounds and British Columbia, 144,700 pounds.

For several years several million pounds of tobacco have been exported to the British Isles, and it is expected that this year a considerable percentage of the crop will be exported.

Salt Refinery Plant

The Arden Vancouver Salt Company proposes to erect shortly a refining plant on Frisco Creek to refine about 10,000 tons of salt yearly, bringing the raw product either from California or from the evaporation beds in the British West Indies.

Horses From Royal Ranch

Exhibits From Prince Of Wales Ranch, Wis At Portland, Ore.

Eight Clydesdale horses and one Percheron exhibited from the ranch of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, at the recent Pacific International Livestock Show at Portland, Oregon, carried off eleven first prizes and one second. The entries also were awarded all the championships in the Clydesdale classes, the one second prize being awarded in the case where two horses from the Prince's string were shown in one class.

The entries from the Prince of Wales ranch, which is at Pekiola, Alberta, about sixty miles southwest of Calgary, were widely advertised prior to the opening of the show, and the horses were stabled in a special section decorated with the Prince's colours—scarlet and purple.

"He wouldn't have complained in any case," Gay answered loyally. "That's Nick, Mr. Bartlett. He gives him another look like what life he may, but he makes the best of it. By all the rules of the game he should be wading in the Pacific, or on the way there; but he has chosen to stick by me. I'm going in now to wash up. Train travel is an abomination. While I'm gone Nick can tell our problems, and then I'll tell all the things he's forgotten!"

She arose, her hand tightening a bit on her husband's shoulder, and with a smile for the old man she went within. Nick sat quite still for a moment, looking down at the maples in the valley; a gorgeous panorama in gold and crimson.

"No," he said thoughtfully, looking back to the old man's question, "I've never set foot out of New England; and I don't know how it feels to be out of it together." He smiled, as if at something very far away. Then the smile vanished, and he said soberly: "Mr. Bartlett, the biggest thing in life has come to us."

He looked up, meeting the old man's untroubled gaze.

"I—ain't surprised," said Simon Bartlett quietly. "Somehow I knew soon as I asked what brought you home. Nothin' else would 'a' held either of you back from conquerin' the world. You—ain't by any chance lettin' yourself feel disappointed, boy?"

"I can't you know, for Gay's sake," Nick answered quickly, "though I'll admit that for just a minute I was—well—stunned. All in a breath the picture of my whole life had to be changed—about—changed quickly, so Gay wouldn't know I minded ever so little. Perhaps you can't understand, sir, but ever since I was a little shaver I've dreamed of doing what we set out to do. More than anything in the world I desired my freedom. Freedom! What is freedom, Mr. Bartlett, when the look in a girl's eyes has a greater hold on one than the broad highway?"

The old man rocked gently for a moment.

"Freedom," he said at last, "is just another name for happiness. Some finds it some ways, Nick, and some another. They'll likely come a thimble boy, when the highway'll call so hard it'll be like drawin' teeth to keep from runnin'; but the freedom a man finds in his wife's eyes ain't a bad sort to hold onto. You just hold onto it!"

"So far," Nick answered, with a queer little gesture of surrender, "it has held onto me!"

CHAPTER V.

In any New England state one can find Bakersville: a good-sized inland town where neighboring farmers come to trade on Saturdays when Main Street is lined with teams and trucks. Its Common is bordered by ancient elm trees, and whose boughs white churches lift their spires. There are rows of fine-old pillared mansions—whose seem to look down scornfully on the occasional dwelling of less stately architecture—quiet side streets, and winding byways.

Bakersville lies in a valley, through which the river takes its course quietly and decorously, as a river should. In spring-time, when it floods the meadows, it stops momentarily at the roadside, making as little trouble as possible for passers-by. Hills surround Bakersville on every side, sheltering it from cold winds in winter; but turning it into an inferno during July and August, so that the place has not been overrun by "summer people." Sometimes an artist braves the heat in order to paint the loveliness of the surrounding country.

Occasional boarders come to farms on the hillside outside the town; but as a rule the inhabitants of Bakersville have been born and bred there.

On a May morning, four years after that day when Simon Bartlett gave his wife definition of the word "freedom," Nicholas Hastings stood in the doorway of the First National Bank of Bakersville, and drew a deep breath, preliminary to going in to the day's work. Spring was in the air and the trees, painting the budding maples red—turning the orchards into towers of beauty—tugging at Nick's heartstrings with the old, familiar urge.

Even Main Street, the least lovely part of Bakersville, looked alluring. Signs do not stand open, welcoming the warm air that was to make short work of the accumulated stuffiness of winter months. At his fruit stand opposite, G. Leveroni was building a mound of oranges and pineapples, their golden beauty seeming a part of the bright sunshine; and at the post office across the way the R.F.D. man was starting out upon his rounds.

"Gosh! I envy him!" said Nick, and did not know that he spoke aloud till someone answered:

"I do myself, Nick. A great day to be out. I've half a mind to desert the ship and take a holiday."

Nick turned with a smile to the bank's president, who had spoken.

"A holiday! I've almost forgotten what the word means. Take one by all means, Mr. Maxwell. I guess we can worry along without you!"

John Maxwell laughed.

"I'd jump at that advice if my car wasn't in the paint shop. As it is, I'm stuck. There was something like and graceful in her figure that caught John Maxwell's eye. Pausing on the top step, she turned, and perceiving Nick, waved a greeting to which he responded with a gay gesture and a quick lighting of his eyes, which, though lost on the lady across the street, was quite visible to the keen gaze of the bank president.

"Your new neighbor?" he queried, as she turned away.

"Nick starts as if his thoughts were far away."

"Yes. Nice people—the Hallidays, she's an artist, you know. Her husband writes."

"Any children?"

"No. I believe they have some sort of notion that children would hamper their careers."

John Maxwell snorted with indignation.

"That's all I care to hear about 'em. How's Gay?"

Nick faced his questioner.

"Gay? What made you ask, sir?"

"Thought last time I saw her she looked seedy. Didn't like it, I'm very fond of Gay."

Nick smiled.

"I'm fond of her myself!" Then he said soberly: "The kids both indulged in whooping cough, you know, and Gay lost sleep. She's not been quite right since—fired, I guess."

(With a reluctant glance at the town clock). "I suppose I must retire to my cage."

"A cage—for Nick!" murmured John Maxwell as the boy left him.

He stood for a moment, watching the lady in the blue roadster drive away. He frowned. Then his thoughts flew to Gay, and his face softened. "She's in a cage, too," he thought wisely, "only she doesn't guess it, bless her loyal heart! Well, I trust, their new neighbor will keep her hands off Nick—and her eyes, too. She hasn't any babies to lose sleep over. No wonder she looks fresh as a new-blown rose."

Then, as reluctantly as Nick, he entered the portals of the First National Bank. But business was not pressing that morning, and his thoughts wandered. Why, he thought irritably, hadn't the janitor extinguished the furnace fire? The pipes of the radiator were still warm. He arose, opened another window, and in desperation threw wide the door to his private room. At eleven o'clock it decided he couldn't stand it. Passing Nick's cage he said: "I'm taking your advice—till after dinner. Thunder! this place is stifling! Why don't you open something more?"

"Nick made a discouraged gesture toward a stenographer."

"She's got a cold. She always has a cold—can't stand a draught, so the rest of us suffer. A draught, on my life! This! It's just like forgetting to close the door when you go out. It's a great pity a medal for saving one life at least."

"It would be the first I ever received," laughed John Maxwell as he obeyed.

He stepped outside, drawing in a deep breath of the welcome air. His own home lay to the north, but something drew him in the opposite direction—possibly the sight of a blue roadster turning a corner. He followed it, and came out on the house once occupied by Selma Smith. There he paused, surveying the old-time garden that had been restored. A richly colored shed had vanished, and in its place stood a trim garage, connected with the house by a pergola, which would soon be a wealth of climbing roses.

It was a good old house, thought John Maxwell. He was glad the new people hadn't spoiled it with a tower as the man who bought the Blodgett farm had done. Give it a year or two, and the garden would be a thing of beauty. And it was good to see a coat of new white paint, even though it made Nick's house next door look shabby. Yes, it did look shabby; there was no denying that; but painting cost in these days, and the boy's expenses had been heavy the last three years.

Some say the answer to "How can I live without her?" is "much cheaper."

YOUNG WIFE STRENGTHENED

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bancroft, Ontario—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I had been married about a year and my strength was leaving me on account of my condition. I was only 19 and it was my first child. My mother told me I needed something to steady my nerves and a girl whom I loved told me to take the Vegetable Compound. I am so thankful I did because it strengthened my whole system and now I feel perfectly well and have a sweet little boy."—Mrs. J. B. STALKER, Bancroft, Ontario.

Wonderful Diving Outfit

German Device Enables Man To Work At Great Depth

The salvaging of the German navy from the bottom of Scapa Flow was perhaps the biggest job of the kind on record. A wonderful feat it was, made comparatively easy, however, by the fact that the fleet lay in shallow water.

Hint: no great feat of salvage has been accomplished at a greater depth than 300 feet, and very few at that depth. But a German firm has constructed—that is the right word—a diving outfit that enables men to work at 400 feet or more. The outfit is in 500 feet of water off the coast of Ireland, and it is expected the divers will be able to get at her if they want to.

The German outfit can scarcely be called a diving suit. It is a steel house, from inside of which its single tenant is able to work. The head-piece is as big as the conning tower of a submarine. With its 5,000 candlepower searchlight, like a Cyclops' eye, in front to penetrate the Stygian darkness of the sea hundreds of feet below the surface, it looks like a fabled monster. The working tools are manipulated from the inside of the outfit, and the divers have special devices to overcome pressure.

There are thousands of ships down in Davy Jones' locker, containing, in the aggregate, money, gold and silver bars, jewels and other imperishable treasure of untold value. Most of it is probably irretrievably lost, but science is going to wrest a lot of spoil from the Old Man of the Sea in the not very far distant future.

A Simple Treatment For Children's Colds

Cold in the head is very common at this time of year, especially in the young. A cold of a cold is prone to lead to serious consequences. To relieve all congestion of the system is the first step in treating a cold, whether in infants or adults. The only safe and effective remedy is the ideal means of doing this. Containing no narcotic or other harmful drugs they soothe the child's restlessness, relieve his suffering and ensure complete recovery.

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for relieving indigestion, constipation, colic, fever, and all the ills of childhood. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Provincial Air Service

May Be Incorporated Soon In The Western Provinces For Forest Protection

Inauguration of a provincial air service in the prairie provinces for forest protection may follow as a result of the transfer of natural resources, it is learned.

This phase of forest protection will be discussed between Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, and the premiers of the three prairie provinces on the return of the federal minister from London, England, it was stated by Premier Anderson at Regina. In lieu of instituting a provincial service in each province, an arrangement may be reached between the provincial and federal governments—for the use of the Royal Canadian Air Force machines in forestry service.

Discussion of this matter came before the natural resources conference held at recently at Edmonton.

New Canadian Destroyer

The second of Canada's two new destroyers, the "Skeena," was successfully launched at Southampton recently. Miss Mildred Bennett, sister of the Canadian Prime Minister, performing the christening ceremony before a distinguished gathering. The destroyer slid gracefully into her element bearing a large maple leaf across her bows.

Idea Proved Effective

Dresden Painter Tried New Way To Collect Money

A new and effective method by which an artist may exert gentle pressure upon an unwilling subject of a portrait has been successfully tried at Dresden. A young, unknown painter, having nearly finished a commissioned likeness of one of Dresden's leading industrialists, was told that the agreed upon sum of $500 would not be paid. The industrialist declared that the portrait bore not the slightest resemblance to him. The artist respectfully asked if he might have this statement in writing, as he had borrowed money on the expectation of being paid and wished to be able to show his creditor why he could not meet his obligation. To this the industrialist agreed.

Shortly thereafter at an exhibition a painting appeared entitled "Portrait of a Well-Known Swindler." Recognizing the likeness, laughed. The industrialist, seeing the exhibition, flew into a great rage and demanded the immediate removal of the picture. The artist blandly produced the signed statement asserting that the portrait bore no resemblance whatever to the sinner. The upshot was that the industrialist decided to buy it for $1,000.—New York Times.

League Of Nations

Sir George Foster Sees Lack Of Interest Shown In Work At Present Time

Apathy towards the League of Nations is at the present time very apparent in Canada, in the opinion of Sir George Foster. At a meeting here of the central executive of the League of Nations of Canada, Sir George declared he had gained this impression in travelling over the Dominion last summer.

The Dominion government was apparently going to be up against a big problem in preparing its budget next year owing to prevailing conditions, Sir George told the executive, and he added the opinion that the society could hardly look for any increase on the grant the government makes for the carrying on of the society's work.

An intensive speaking campaign was one suggestion made as a means of reviving interest in the league and enlisting financial support. Sir George volunteered his services for a number of meetings if decision is reached to appeal to the public in this manner.

Interested In Grain Show

Directors of the Co-Operative Wholesale Society of Great Britain who recently concluded a tour of Canada, have expressed themselves as greatly interested in the World's Grain Show to be held at Regina in 1932, and have indicated that in all probability they will visit the Exhibition and Conference at that time.

New German Money

The Germans, this fall, are going to be presented with a new kind of paper money that has some remarkable claims made for it. It is a new type of paper currency guaranteed not to burn, tear or crumple.

"Into Thine hand I commit my spirit."—Psalm xxxi. 5.

Father, Thy hand the wild bird brings
How'er the tempest roar,
Safe in that sheltering place it sings,
Thou art the Father of the poor.

So tossed, no frail, no lone am I.
Except that hand my guidance be,
Hear Thou my fearful, hopeful cry,
Dear Lord, lay hold of me.

—Rose Terry Cooke

Cling fast to the hand that is leading you, though it be in darkness, though it be in deep waters, you know whom you have believed. Yield not for a single moment to misgivings about future storms. Infinite love, joined to infinite skill, shall pilot the way through every strait and temptation.—J. Alexander.

American Author Wins Nobel Prize

Sinclair Lewis, noted United States author, has been voted the Nobel prize in literature, for 1930.

Sinclair Lewis was among United States authors prominently mentioned for the 1930 Nobel prize in literature which this year sets a new record of $40,350. The prize winner also was prominently mentioned. Among the best known books of L. Lewis are "Main Street," published in 1920 which brought him into international notice; "Babbalanza," in 1922, "Arrowsmith," in 1925, and "Elmer Gantry," in 1927.

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Talk promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief? There are many times when Aspirin tablets will "save the day."

They will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Or check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets.

Gargle with Aspirin tablets at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. Look for Aspirin on the box—and the word Genuine in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart.

NEWSPAPER ADS GREAT HELP TO INSURANCE SALES

Value of newspaper advertising was emphasized by J. F. Weston, managing director of the Imperial Assurance Company of Toronto, in an address at the closing of the recent fourth International Convention of life underwriters in Toronto.

After describing the institutional advertising campaign put on jointly by the Canadian life insurance companies, he declared: "We have always regretted our inability to secure the co-operation in its undertaking of the American companies operating in Canada. Could we have it, our campaign would have been more impressive and our work more effective."

"From the experience we have had, it is the firm conviction of the advertising committee that co-operative advertising, educational advertising, sincere, thoughtful, consistent advertising is a potent sales factor."

So much did the American companies appreciate the institutional advertising campaign put on last year that by the permission of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada, they reproduced word for word in United States newspapers from coast to coast, the advertising which had previously appeared in Canadian newspapers.

NEW HOCKEY REGULATIONS

Now as the hockey season is approaching, the following new system proposed at the National Hockey meet in Toronto in September should be of interest.

The measure followed several unsatisfactory endings to games last winter, when so many men were penalized that the game became a farce.

Under the new system, should two men of a team be penalized, they go to the box in the usual way. When, if ever, the third teammate is "chased," a substitute will take his place. The penalty time of the third man will begin when the shortest preceding penalty ends. As an example, should the first man get a major penalty, and the second a minor, the third man will start serving his time when the second man resumes his place on the ice.

There will be no excuse for players injuring opponents about the head and face in future. Another ruling says: Any player cutting another player about the head or face with his stick will automatically receive a major penalty. The same thing applies to the aggressor in a fight. If the referee defines the aggressor, the latter takes a major penalty. The person struck will not be penalized unless he retaliates, in which case he will be chased for two minutes.

Still another ruling covers the chopping of hockey sticks from a player's hands. In this case the chopper will be penalized, while the choppered will also go to the box if he interferes in any play while lacking his stick.

The granting of free publicity by a newspaper certainly will never make a newspaper proprietor rich, neither will it pay for the paper, ink, light, power and wages for production. But often free publicity seekers will send their printing elsewhere when there is a dollar or two in it. It is one of the peculiar kinks in human nature.

—Coleman Journal.

Miss McArthur, one time teacher at Coleman, died in Lethbridge last week.

A SHORTER WORK DAY

Recently, in Toronto, R. Hon. Arthur Meighen expressed the view that unless the world's consuming power can be increased it will become necessary for the nations of the world to unite in a pact to reduce working hours. "I am not sure," Mr. Meighen added, "that Mr. William Green was far wrong when, as head of the American Federation of Labor, he said, 'We are bound to come at last, or at all events before a great length of time, to the six-hour day.'"

Some years ago the nations of the world did actually get together in an attempt to reduce working hours. But it was the eight-hour day they were aiming at, not one of six hours. It was a very half-hearted attempt, however.

The first International Labor Conference, held in 1919, approved a convention respecting the eight-hour day. Canada was one of the high contracting parties of the International Labor Organization who professed to recognize "that the well-being—physical, moral and intellectual—of industrial wage earners is of supreme importance" and that "the adoption of an eight-hour day is the standard to be aimed at."

In Canada, notwithstanding that some 50 per cent of the workers are already on the eight-hour day or less, little progress has been made in legislation. The federal government has insisted that it is a matter for the provinces. With one exception, the provinces have made no more progress than Ontario, where, in 1924, the legislature adopted a resolution stating that "as a general principle and subject to reasonable exceptions, the working hours of persons in public and private industrial undertakings ought not to exceed eight hours in the day." The resolution then proceeded to voice the familiar objection that "until the eight-hour day becomes of general application it is adoption in Ontario would make this province the victim of unfair competition from such countries as have not an eight-hour law in force."

There is much force in this argument; but this "After-you-Alphonse" attitude, if persisted in by all governments, will lead nowhere. Mr. Meighen's implied suggestion that the nations of the world get together to reduce working hours is an eminently practical one. The machinery for such a movement already exists in the International Labor Office at Geneva. A concerted effort at the next international labor conference to get a number of industrial countries to agree to make the plunge together would remove all reasons for hesitation in the matter.—Ex.

In an editorial on the impressions left by the leading delegates to the recent Imperial Conference, the London Times declared Premier R. B. Bennett, of Canada, by common consent, steadily grew in stature as the weeks went by. "He set the ball rolling at the outset, even if his debut was thought at the time to be a trifle too dramatic and, perhaps, also a trifle immature," said the Times. "By the end of the conference he had established a great reputation as a statesman of real power, of practical business experience and with a capacity for expression."

At a largely attended meeting of Turtle Mountain Lodge No. 15, Knights of Pythias, at Hillcrest on Tuesday night, a class of six candidates received the Rank of Esquire, and another class of two the Rank of Page. The latter class will be advanced at a special convention to be held Monday next, and on Tuesday night, December 2nd, the entire W. C. Black class will receive the Rank of Knight. On this occasion, W. C. Black, donor of the Black trophy, will be present from Calgary, and a record attendance of members, as well as visitors from Coleman, Blairmore and other points, is anticipated.

Solloway and Mills will be at home to visitors at Lethbridge for the next several weeks. Informal, please.

OIL MAN REVEALS

RUSSIAN HORRORS
(B. E. Montgomery in Seattle Post-Intelligencer)

Between Leningrad and Moscow the railway is lined on either side with farms, prosperous looking farms that make a fine appearance as the traveller looks from the car window. But, go a mile from the railway in either direction—and that's as far as the farms reach. Instead of fields dotted with modern tractors, you will find country districts that are literally starving; districts where ragged peasants scratch at the ground with wooden plows and think they are lucky if they have a piece of black bread for dinner. That's Russia, front and back; the front that is set up like movie scenery for the benefit of the world, and the back that an outsider sees only when he goes over there, not as an escorted visitor, but to live and work in the country.

If the Soviet leaders are going to fulfill their promises of Making Russia a universally prosperous, happy and world-powerful nation by 1924, they will have to work faster than any government body in the history of the world ever worked. The great mass of Russians are not prosperous and certainly not happy; they are bitterly poor and getting poorer, and they are utterly miserable. Believers in the five-year programme are entirely fanatical about it. To the average uneducated Russian—or the Russian educated in the Communist schools—the success of the program means a free hand to shoot the rest of the world.

I am not exaggerating. I am quoting, for instance, a maid who worked for us and who used to talk openly about what would happen when the five-year program was accomplished. She was actually and literally expecting to go to America and "shoot Americans." The girl was a typical product of the Communist schools.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

George Ingraham, of the North Fork, is a Calgary business visitor.

The Women's Institute will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Archie Swart on Thursday, next, when a basketry course will be under discussion.

A movement is on foot, sponsored by the Cowley Ladies' Bridge Club, to stage an entertainment and Christmas tree for the children of the district. Efforts are being made to give the kiddies one of the best times of their lives.

A whist drive will be held on Wednesday night next by the Ladies' Bridge Club, in aid of the Christmas Tree fund, when we trust, everyone will turn out to help make the children happy by giving them a jolly time on Christmas Eve, which is the one day of all the year for them.

The Cowley Ladies' Bridge Club was organized on Tuesday night, when they held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Cleland, at which a number of enthusiasts were present. Mrs. Murphy was elected chairman, and Mrs. R. Littleton secretary-treasurer. After routine business was dismissed, bridge was indulged in for a couple of hours, after which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Tustian on December 9th, at 8 o'clock sharp.

After an illness of several months, Mr. Charles Mitchell, who had been ranching near Lundbreck for a number of years, passed away on Monday morning. Funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, the remains being laid to rest in Cowley cemetery. Mr. Mitchell was a member of the I. O. O. F., and a large number of members showed their highest respects to their departed brother by following him to his last resting place. Mr. Mitchell leaves to mourn his loss a wife and small daughter, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

And here are all the newspapers calmly taking Mr. Bosenberry's seat away from him and giving it to J. W. Macdonald, as Liberal leader in the Legislature. That was a classic win that Mr. Bosenberry made in Pincher Creek, and it would be just too bad, if, after he had done all the running, somebody else would do all the sitting.—High River Times.

It is expected that ice at the arena will be in readiness for general skating by Saturday.

"TONS OF MONEY"

There will be "Tons of Money" at the local opera house on Wednesday night next, under the care of the Blairmore Players, an aggregation of local talent that needs very little in the way of introduction.

"Tons of Money" is a three-act farce comedy written by Bill Evans and Valentine, and is being staged by special arrangement with Samuel French, Incorporated, New York, under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Packer.

Among the characters will be found the following: L. McDonald, as Sprules, a butler; Mrs. Packer as Simpson, a parlor maid; Mrs. J. A. Kerr as Miss Benita Mullett; Miss Jocelyn Penke as Louise Allington; Mr. R. Wootton as Aubrey Henry Maitland Allington; Mr. N. Packer as Giles, a gardener; Mr. J. A. Kerr as James Chesterman, a solicitor; Mrs. F. H. MacKay as Jean Everard; Mr. S. G. Bannan as Henry; Mr. Alex. McKay as George Maitland.

Mr. R. W. H. Pinkney will perform the role of stage manager, while the electrical effects will be in charge of Mr. A. Vejprava.

Doors will open at 7.30, the curtain to rise at 8.15 sharp.

Reserve seat plan is now open at the Blairmore Pharmacy.

Don't miss this play, the proceeds of which will go towards St. Luke's church vestry funds.

CANADA MAIL CONTRACT

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon, on Friday, the 26th December, 1930, for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed Contract for a period not exceeding four years, twelve times per week on the route Hillcrest Mines and Canadian Pacific Railway Station, from the 1st April next.

Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Office of Hillcrest Mines and at the office of the District Superintendent of Postal Service.

J. B. CORLEY,
District Superintendent of Postal Service
District Superintendent's Office, Calgary, Alberta, Nov. 12, 1930. [13-3]

For "Tons of Money," the West Canadian Band will appear to assist at the opera house on Wednesday night next.

Thelma, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. H. Pinkney, is making but slow progress towards recovery, following very severe illness.

Who says we're hard up? There will be "Tons of Money" at the Blairmore Opera House on November 26th—Wednesday next. The Blairmore Players will commence to present it at 8.15. Doors will be opened at 7.30, so come early to avoid the rush.

Davie Kemp, a graduate in real hockey from Blairmore, was the sensation of the opener between Vancouver and Seattle at Vancouver on Monday night. Davie is playing goal for Seattle, and though a young kid, promises to meet or surpass the record of any goalie in pro stuff. The Crow's Nest Pass simply leaps with joy at Davie's progress.

Auction Sale of Timber

Crown Forest
Timber Sale No. 502

The right to cut certain timber on the following lands will be offered at public auction at the office of Forest Ranger Boulton, of Coleman, Alberta, at 2 o'clock p.m. on Wednesday, December 10th, 1930.

"A block of merchantable timber, sawlogs and props located in Sections 5, 6, 7 and 8, Township 9, Range 4, West of the 6th Meridian."

On these lands there is estimated to be 500,000 feet board measure of logs and 4,000,000 lineal feet of props, suitable for the manufacture of lumber and mine props.

The sale will be offered subject to an upset price of $1.50 per thousand feet board measure for sawlogs and one quarter cent per lineal foot for mine props. The purchaser will be allowed until May 1st, 1931, to cut and remove all timber covered by the conditions of this sale. Each bidder will be required to deposit with the officer conducting the sale the sum of $200.00 in cash, bank draft, or accepted cheque made payable to the Provincial Forester before being allowed to bid. Agents will be required to file letters of authorization from their principals before bidding.

The deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them at the conclusion of the sale and that of the purchaser held as a guarantee deposit to be forfeited in case of failure to comply with the sale conditions or the Forest Reserve Regulations.

Full particulars may be obtained from the Forest Supervisor at Pincher Creek, Alberta, or the Provincial Forester, Land Titles Building, Edmonton.

BLAIRMORE GOLFER'S HOLE-IN-ONE SETS RECORD FOR CANADA; IS THIRD IN WORLD

Ralph H. Reville, editor of "Canadian Golfer," writes: "The close of the hole-in-one season in Canada, November 1, ended up in a blaze of glory with two most sensational performances being recorded. Mr. J. B. Wilson, manager of the Royal Bank of Blairmore, Alta., playing over the course of the Crows' Nest Pass Golf and Country Club, made the ninth hole in one. Now this particular hole is 325 yards, as authenticated by measurement by surveyors of the Crows' Nest Coal Corporation. This therefore constitutes a record for Canada. In fact it is nearly a world's record. This goes to the joint credit of Mr. R. F. Burton the well-known Oxford golfer who did the 18th at Milton Park in one and Mr. A. C. Lade the 17th at Henley-on-Thames also in one. J. G. Anderson has the American record 328 yards at Brae Burn, Mass. Mr. Wilson is in third place with his phenomenal 325-yard stunt."

WHY EDITORS LEAVE HOME

Mr. Editor:
Pa says Editors know everything, so, I, write you to tell me what a Reeve is. Pa, was telling Jed Smith last Night that A Reeve, was generally speaking the man in the district who wanted to run the Church, the Poling-Bothe, the school-man and everything so the people elected him and where they could Bawl him out for building the good roads around his farm and keep him from putting his nose in other things they want to puddle around with themselves.

I asked Jed, what was the difference, between a Reeve and a Mayor. Jed, said none, except perhaps a Mayor scatters more Horse-feathers. Is that right?

I asked Ma, what council-men did, Ma says, nothing, but then Ma is funny sometimes. "Do you know?"

BAMBOROUGH—HAY

Miss Eva Hay, of Govan, and Mr. Norman Bam borough, of Nokomis, were united in the bonds of matrimony at the Govan United church on Monday, November 10th, Rev. Mr. Millson officiating. The bride, who looked charming in a white ensemble and carrying a bouquet of white and pink carnations, was given away by her father, Mr. Hay, of Govan, while her sister, Miss Lillian Hay, was the bridesmaid. Mr. Thomas Bam borough, brother of the groom, was best man. During the signing of the register, Mr. John Hancock sang a solo. Mr. and Mrs. Bam borough will make their home at Nokomis and are taking up residence in Mr. Misenheimer's house on 3rd Avenue.

Mr. Norman Bam borough is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bam borough, well-known residents of Hillcrest.

HOW THEY CAME

(Owing to the numerous recent arrivals in our midst, and the continued talk about the "dear little angels," we are constrained to re-publish the following lines, written many years ago, but now wholly out of print, except in some obscure scrap book. It is entitled "Fun Among the Poets.")

A distinguished poet of Maine wrote and published the following after the birth of his first child:
One night as old St. Peter slept,
He left the door of Heaven ajar,
When through a little angel crept,
And came down with a falling star.
One summer as the blessed beams
Of morn approached, my blushing bride
Awakened from some pleasing dreams,
And found that angel by her side.
God grant but this—I ask no more—
That when he leaves this world of pain
He'll swing his way to that bright shore,
And find his home in Heaven again.

St. Peter's Reply
(John G. Saxe, deeming that an injustice had been done St. Peter, wrote the following as the reply of the choleric Saint):

I've kept my gate securely tied;
There has no little angel strayed,

A New and Better Attitude

The world is passing through a period of depression from the evil effects of which practically no civilized nation is exempt, and the more highly developed and industrial a nation has become, the more severely is it suffering from the prevailing depression. Undoubtedly, it is not wise to unduly dwell upon or stress existing hard times, and the tendency to do so should be resisted, but, on the other hand, it would be even more unwise to ignore facts, deliberately shut our eyes to them, and not make the required effort to overcome and shorten the present evil, seek for causes of it, and take necessary steps to prevent its recurrence.

There have been many such periods in the past, and there will, in all probability, be more of them in the future, despite all that man can do to prevent them. In fact, human failings and human greed are the underlying causes of these periods of depression, and their entire prevention will only be brought about by a complete reform of the human race. The present period differs, however, from former periods of depression in at least two important respects, both of which are the outcome of a changed attitude on the part of the vast majority of people towards our whole social and economic structure.

First, there is greater interest taken in relief measures than ever before by governments, corporations, and individuals alike. We no longer regard acute misery as necessary. We may not have learned yet how to prevent it, but there is a widespread and growing belief that the thing can be done and there is considerable willingness to make sacrifices to attain the desired end.

No longer is there callous indifference to the suffering caused by reason of unemployment. We have progressed to the point of realizing that the homeless casual laborer is not the only or even the principal sufferer in such times as these. We have learned to concentrate attention and relief upon the families of the unemployed who are permanent members of the community. We have come to realize that the difficulties of hundreds of thousands are not of their own making, and that they cannot be allowed to suffer want and utter privation. We have learned, too, that it is better to provide emergency relief for these people than to hand out doles and make them recipients of charity.

Thus in this present period of depression we find relief works being undertaken on a scale hitherto unknown. In Canada, it means that over $100,000,000 will be expended in order to provide temporary work for those lacking employment. This, of course, is not a cure; nor is it a preventive. It is merely an amelioration of existing conditions. It means, too, that as a people we are mortgaging our future, because these $100,000,000 or more will be borrowed money upon which we must pay interest for many years to come. But it is better to utilize these moneys in providing work than to dole it out in charity. Furthermore, if the works instituted are of the right character, in a word, if they are of a permanent character and productive of good to the country in the years to come, and the money thereon is not wastefully expended, they may even prove factors in creating and maintaining a new prosperity and staying off further periods of depression.

But an even more important aspect of this present period of depression is discovered in the efforts being put forth to find out what caused the depression, and how to climb out of it, and how to avoid again falling into a similar state. We now realize that a good deal of the economic thinking of recent years has not stood the test of the last twelve months. But, as we have seen, we have lost one product of boom times; we still think that it is the business of an economic system to make for human enjoyment. Economics is not the disinterested science of the past; we know we have the productive capacity to provide a generous minimum standard of living to all who will work and we regard large scale unemployment and consequent suffering as a reflection upon our intelligence.

It is one thing, of course, to believe that a deep seated ill ought to be cured and quite another to cure it. And while there is no justification as yet for thinking that this is the last depression which we shall ever encounter, there is a considerable warrant for a tempered optimism. Some of the ablest minds in business and in the universities are directed toward the problem. We have more statistical information which bears on the causes of the business cycle than ever before. We are developing a technique for alleviating the worst effects of depressions, which will be of value even if a cure is not found. The outlook is far from hopeless.

Power From Nelson River

British Dominion Syndicate Makes Offer To City Of Winnipeg
Offer of blocks of power from the proposed White Mud Falls development on the Nelson River in Northern Manitoba has been made to the city of Winnipeg by the British Dominion Power Syndicate, it is stated. The proposal made in a letter from Sir Reginald Brade, head of the syndicate, was referred to J. G. Glasco, manager of the city hydro system.

Commencing in 1935, blocks of power ranging from 20,000 to 100,000 horsepower would be available, according to the letter. According to Mr. Glasco the offer comes "ten years ahead of the game," and cost of transmission would be very cheap. A complete report will be submitted to the civic utilities commission at its next session.

Ready For Action
Mother was trying hard to arrange a match between her daughter and the wealthy young landowner.

"Beatrice," she said to her daughter, "if Harold asks you to be his wife tonight, tell him to speak to me."

Beatrice nodded, and then said: "And if he doesn't ask, Mother?"

"In that case, said her mother, 'tell him I want to speak to him.'"

Blindness In Many Cases Is Preventable

Preservation Of Sight Should Be Taught In Schools

That one-half of blindness among children is preventable, and that the prevention of blindness should be first taught in the schools, is the opinion of Miss Mary C. McLelland, National Field Secretary of the Prevention Department of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Toronto.

Miss McLelland said that her department was in favor of text books with large type being used, as they are in the States. A child with defective sight would have to strain to read small type at present used in text book publication. In order to consider the publication of such a book when the new reader for the western provinces comes out, a committee has been formed, with Dr. Fletcher, of Winnipeg, as head. A survey is also being made in an effort to have sight saving classes instituted in the larger cities, she said.

Television Is Improving

Spectators See Actors Distinctly At Distance Of Thirty Miles

Images as clear as those seen in the average motion picture theatre are projected by a television transmitter which has been tested in Germany. The spectators are able to observe the vividly clear pictures much as if they were at a moving picture show. The transmitter catches pictures with a sharp lens having a celerity of 50,000 light points a second. By the use of a photo-electric cell these light points are changed and transmitted on a 70-meter wave. Spectators 30 miles distance faced the lens and saw pictures of the actors with the utmost distinctness.

Danger from Colds

Every woman beyond middle age should realize that a majority of the troubles she has to fear have their origin in what are known as common colds. Each attack lowers her vitality and reduces resistance to disease. At this season of the year every woman should see that her blood is kept up to meet the rigors of the climate and especially that strength should be restored after any cold, however slight.

For this Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable tonic. These pills are not a mere stimulant giving temporary relief. They build up the body by creating that rich red blood which imparts the glow of health; steadies the nerves, improves the appetite and digestion and makes the users capable of withstanding the rigors of our fall and winter months. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at $2.00 a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Some People Lucky With Blind Purchases

King's Warehouse In London Sells Some Valuable Parcels

What the Lost Property Office is to an ordinary railway, the King's Warehouse, situated in Lower Thames Street, London, England, is to the Customs and Excise Department of the British Government. Here are dumped articles and goods of all kinds claimed by the individuals to whom they have been consigned, plus a considerable proportion of confiscated smuggled goods. From time to time these articles are put up for auction, and great bargains are not infrequently picked up. On one occasion a small casket, labelled "contents unidentified," was knocked down for a few shillings. When the purchaser took it home and opened it he found it to be nearly half-full of a solid, waxy substance somewhat of the appearance of marble which proved to be ambergris, that precious product of diseased whales worth about $50 an ounce. There were approximately 40 lbs. weight of it in the casket, and it was sold for above $30,000. Another time a lucky bidder obtained possession, for the sum of half-a-crown, of a small cardboard box, labelled in the catalogue as containing "seabirds' eggs—various." On examining his purchase, he found among the eggs one of the Great Auk, an extinct species of sea-fowl. Later on, it realized at auction for its fortunate finder the nice little sum of $1,500.

"Audible Museum" In Berlin

Phonograph Record Made In 1908 Is Among Collection

The piercing wail of a grief-stricken Korean, the merry song of a Romanian father, the woe of an American cowboy and the lingering call of a Spanish night watchman are some of the exotic sounds which the "audible museum" in Berlin has to offer. The museum, which is housed in an "audible museum" soon to be established in Berlin under the direction of the Ministry of Posts. A recently found primitive phonograph record of Count Zeppelin's voice in the father of the airship appeals to the German people for support of his project will also be included. This record dates from 1908, shortly after a disaster to one of his airships at Badendingen, and includes the words: "In a few years my airships will conquer the world." Acting on the belief that appropriate sounds intensify the impressions a visitor receives from displays, the Ministry intends to incorporate a series of phonograph records with various exhibits, which interested folk may turn on and hear the voices of such men as Edison, Marconi, Lindbergh, and of others of historical interest, as well as sounds from other lands and other times in so far as they are collectable and recognizable.

Proved His Honesty

Paine received a letter, postmarked Michigan City, Ind., containing $2 and the following note: "Seventeen years ago you trusted me with a pick and shovel. I told you I would pay you the first time I found $2. I just found it today. Here it is. The honest men are not all dead yet."

Origin Of Common Expression

The expression "to put a spoke in the wheel" would suggest adding strength to a wheel, although actually the saying is used to indicate that somebody's progress has been barred. It has its origin, no doubt, in the early days when vehicles had solid wooden wheels. Holes were made in some of these so that the driver who wished to put on the brake could do so by pushing through one of the holes a piece of wood, called a spoke, and thus prevent the wheel from revolving.

Peace River Bacon

Bacon Hogs Now Shipped In Carloads From Peace River To Vancouver

Less than 30 years ago, the Peace River District of Alberta, an extensive area of country northwest of Edmonton, was considered even by some agricultural experts as unsuited for productive farming. It is now one of the best wheat and other grain producing areas in Canada and also is growing in importance as a mixed farming. Bacon hogs are now being shipped in carloads to Vancouver. Among the principal buyers of the Peace River hogs are the Vancouver Department Stores. Housewives of that city say that the bacon from Peace River is of the finest quality and like Oliver Twist they want more. One of the most recent Canadian winners of the world's wheat prize at the International Grain and Hay Show, Chicago, was from the Peace River country, namely, Herman Trolle, of Wembley. Joseph H. B. Smith, of Wolf Creek, Alberta, last year's winner, is also an Alberta farmer, but is located outside of the Peace River District.

Russian Coal Imports

Imports Of Soviet Coal Increased 12 Per Cent. Over Last Five-Year Average

Canada imported 55,575 tons of Russian anthracite coal during September, it was reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total imports of coal increased 12 per cent. over the last five-year average. Practically all the bituminous and over one-half of the anthracite came from United States.

The domestic output during September amounted to 1,129,883 tons, a decline of 0.3 per cent. from the last five-year average. Nova Scotia mines produced 473,307 tons; New Brunswick mines, 14,106 tons; Saskatchewan mines, 32,780 tons; Alberta mines, 548,652 tons, and British Columbia mines, 163,038 tons.

An Oil That Is Famous—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far ahead enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

English Rhetoric In Germany

Difficulty Sometimes Encountered In Country Advertisements

The one advertising slogan everyone over in Germany understands is: "Say it in English!"

In rare cases where the English in those announcements is less clear than one finds in advertisements, the text usually gains in favor what is lost in rhetoric. For example, a certain resort assures prospective visitors it has "a cure that cures rheumatism, gout, sciatica, neuritis, golf, tennis and fishing."

Suffered From Heart Trouble

Became Weak and Run Down
Mrs. Wm. Dittie, Glensand, Ont., writes: "For a long period I suffered from heart trouble, and became very weak and run down. I tried various remedies, but they did me no good. One day I met a friend and told her of my trouble. She said she had had heart trouble for two years too, but after using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for a short time she had been relieved of her trouble, so I got two boxes and after taking them I was again feeling fine, and always recommend H. & N. Pills to anyone complaining of heart trouble."

MEAGRE RESULTS OBTAINED FROM IMPERIAL PARLEY

London, Eng.—Right Hon. Philip Snowden's victory over the Imperial conference is now clear. He may give way to the extent of allowing a stabilization period of three years for the present, preferences being the needs the revenue, but that is the best the Dominions can hope for.

It is admitted that nearly every vital point of his economic policy will be shelved until a further conference, presumably the Imperial Economic Conference to be held in Ottawa.

This, apparently is acceptable to Premier R. B. Bennett, because he knows the political feeling of the British people, which anticipates that the Conservatives will be back in power by then and will be able to do something towards reciprocal tariffs.

The Dominions are disappointed at the meagre results of the conference and are turning to one another for the creation of a series of treaties between themselves, based on the principle of reciprocal tariffs. These negotiations are shrouded in mystery because of their delicacy, but one of the Dominion premiers remarked to the British United Press that there was only one thing to be really grateful for, and that was that the conference provided an opportunity for the heads of the various Dominions to get together and lay down the basis of future commercial treaties between themselves.

On the constitutional side, the Dominions are very pleased. The appointment of native born governors-general by direct advice from the Dominion premiers and without the advice of the minister of the mother country, is conceded, but the King will decide the "suitability" of the man named.

However, this condition is so elastic that it is easy to foresee that if the King decides that the previous political affiliations of one of those recommended makes him not suitable, another name must be submitted.

Will Carry Out Mandate

Premier Ramsay MacDonald Refers to Regard to Palestine

London, England.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald assured the House of Commons that parliament would have a full opportunity to discuss the White Paper on Palestine before any ordinance were framed on its basis. In response to questions, he reiterated governmental assertions that the recent White Paper, regarding the British attitude towards Jews and Arabs in Palestine, had been misinterpreted and said the government intends to carry out its obligations under the mandate to both sections of the Palestine population.

Pensions Board

Western Pensions Tribunal To Hold Sitings In The West

Winnipeg, Man.—Members of the Western Pension Tribunal, appointed under the revised Pension Act, to adjudicate on western applications for pensions, commenced their sitting in Winnipeg recently. Majority of cases to be dealt with are those previously turned down by the former pension board.

Dates of western sittings are: Regina, November 24-28; Calgary, December 1-5; Vancouver, December 8-20.

Has First Plane Crash

Charlottetown, P.E.I.—Premier Edward Island's first aeroplane crash occurred at Lot 16 when a "plane owned and piloted by H. S. Jones, of Apohaqui, New Brunswick, fell from a height of about 25 feet. The plane, with Charles Yeo, of Lot 16, as a passenger, and Jones at the controls, made a good take-off, but the engine stalled and went dead shortly after the machine left the ground.

Plan World Exhibition

Sydney, Australia.—When the Sydney Harbor Bridge is opened here a "World Exhibition" will be held commemorating the event. It is expected that the exhibition will be held some time in January. It will include displays of agricultural, industrial, mining and artistic materials.

Plan Was Rejected

London, England.—The British Government definitely rejected the Canadian offer of reciprocal Empire tariff preferences put forward by Premier R. B. Bennett at the opening of the Imperial Conference.

W. N. U. 1934

Air Lines Across Canada

Company Being Formed To Operate Coast To Coast Service
Toronto, Ont.—Formation of a transportation company, to be known as Canadian Airways Limited, is well under way.

The plan has been endorsed by the government, thus enabling the C.N.R. to participate with the C.P.R., Western Canada Airways Limited, and the Aviation Corporation of Canada, in the formation of a large company of air transportation.

Headquarters are being established in Montreal, with James A. Richardson as president, and Sir Henry Thornton, head of the C.N.R., and E. W. Beatty, head of the C.P.R., as joint vice-presidents. There will be 13 directors, representative of leading financial and commercial interests in Canada.

Mr. Richardson, who is director of several aviation and financial organizations, and also sole owner of Western Canada Airways, will be the largest shareholder. Each of the railways will subscribe $250,000 of the capital involved, which amounts to a total of $2,000,000 shares of no par value. Their contribution at the present time is small.

The new organization will operate in two sections, known as Eastern Canada lines and Western Canada lines, each providing a highly organized passenger, mail and express transit service by air.

Within a very short time, it is understood, passengers, mail and express will be carried from coast to coast within Canada.

Great Future For Vancouver

Minister Says Coast City Will Become Greatest Port In The World

Vancouver, B.C.—Vancouver's political allegiance is Vancouver's own business, and, regardless of it, the duty of the Minister of Marine is the development of transport facilities of this port, which promises to become the "greatest in the world."

Such was the statement of the Minister of Marine, Hon. Alfred Durnale, in the course of an address before the Vancouver Canadian Club recently.

"The port of Vancouver, I believe, is destined to become the greatest in the world," said the minister. "It requires no great imagination to visualize that within the next quarter of a century it will be the centre of a huge trade with the Orient."

Let him be criticized for making the White Paper on Palestine, the speaker reminded his hearers that some of the country's leading capitalists were lawyers.

"What this country needs is men of action in business as well as politics," he said. "The speaker's stop to the trade depression which this country, in fact all countries, have suffered during the last couple of years. They alone can bring us back to the practical thoughts, to the sound methods which lie at the very foundation of Canada."

"Marigold" To Visit Regina

Delightful Play Which Has Drawn In Montreal and Toronto, Appears For Three Days

Regina, Sask.—Some shows that reach Regina with an all-star cast direct from London. The "Marigold" may be stretching the point, but "Marigold," which will play at the Capitol Theatre for three days commencing Monday, November 24th, can truthfully claim to be a London company.

"Marigold" is a doubtful play by L. Allen Barker and F. R. Pryor, of the Queen Victoria period. The Queen's visit to the British capital of Regina, and should obtain excellent support because real live actors from London. The play is a stage and give flesh and blood performances.

The splendid cast will include Sophie Stewart, Ellis Irving, Lionel Gadsden, Edmond Beresford, Royalty Taylor, Marguerite Collier, Winifred Yvette Pienne, Walter Roy, Gordon Petrie, William C. Aldous, John Lauriston, Marie Shields and Jean Clyde, daughter of the famous Scottish star, John Clyde. Yvette Pienne was the only member of the cast who was in the London company when the play was produced there. She stepped into a French part when the original girl could not cross the Atlantic owing to illness. "Marigold," which has had wonderful success in Montreal and Toronto, should delight Regina when it opens at the Capitol Theatre for a three day run.

White Foxes Driven South

The Psa, Man.—White foxes, the most prized quarry of northern trappers, have been seen 50 miles from this northern railway centre. The foxes, by C. E. Stockill, assistant to the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, may be a good omen and qualify for a free trip to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.

Sees End Of Bolshevism

Predicts That Soviet Russia Will Turn To Capitalism Within A Year

New York.—Sir Percival Dewhurst Perry, chairman of the First Motor companies of Europe, predicted, on his arrival on the S.S. Bremen, that Russia will become a capitalist state within a year.

"There is no question but that Soviet Russia will, in my opinion, give up within a year," Sir Percival said. "They have seen the writing on the wall, and with the anticipated collapse of their five-year plan, there is no doubt at all that they will revert to capitalism to avoid a revolution."

Accompanying Sir Percival were Maurice Dolfus and Dr. Karl Wilhelm Hauss. The group will confer with Henry Ford at Detroit.

To Eliminate Radio Trouble

Street Cars In Moose Jaw Are Equipped With Condensers

Moose Jaw.—Street cars in Moose Jaw have been equipped with condensers with a view to eliminating much of the radio interference in the city, according to an announcement made recently by J. Lebeck, secretary of the Moose Jaw Radio Association. The condensers have been installed as a result of negotiations between radio dealers in the city and the street railway company. They are installed on the generators in the street cars.

ROYAL ADDRESS AT OPENING OF INDIAN PARLEY

London, England.—The future of India's millions was cast into the balance of the momentous round table conference which the King, in a hopeful speech, opened in the great gallery of the House of Lords on November 12.

A scene splashed with Oriental splendor such as rarely has been viewed before in the western world was the setting for the ceremonial inauguration of the important negotiations, the gravity of which was stressed in the royal address and those which followed, by Premier MacDonald, the Indian princes, and the delegates from India.

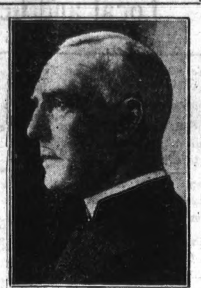

East met west, round, two large oval tables, one set within the great red and gold hall, scene of the opening of the five-power naval conference last winter.

A few minutes before noon the King entered the hushed hall. Centred in the colorful gathering was the golden throne chair from which he addressed the assembly. In conventional morning clothes, the King made an impression by the fervor of his address.

From his red spectacle case he took rimless glasses, looped them behind his ears, and slowly and carefully read his speech:

"No words of mine are needed to bring home to you the momentous character of the task to which you have set your hands," he said in an appeal for solution of the great problem of the future system of government for India. "Each one of you will, with me, be profoundly conscious how much depends to the whole of the British Commonwealth of the issue of your consultations. This community of interest leads me to come forth and it is a happy augury that there should be present today the representatives of my government in all the sister states of this commonwealth.

"I shall follow the course of your proceedings with the closest and most sympathetic interest, not indeed without anxiety, but with a great confidence. The material conditions which surround the lives of my subjects in India affect me greatly and will be ever present in my thoughts during your forthcoming deliberations."

"I have also in mind the just claims of minorities and minorities of men to a share in the ownership of the soil, land owners and tenants, of the strong and the weak, of the rich and the poor, of the races, castes and creeds of which the body politic is composed."

"For these things I care deeply. I cannot doubt that the foundation of self-government is in the fusion of such divergent claims into mutual obligations and in their recognition and fulfillment. It is my hope that the future of the government of India, based on this foundation, will give expression to her honorable aspirations."

"May your discussion point the way to sure achievement of this end, and may your names go down in history as men who served India well and whose endeavours advanced the happiness and prosperity of all of my beloved people. I pray that Providence may grant you in bounteous measure wisdom, patience and goodwill."

Four furniture movers took the throne away and replaced it with a chairman's seat while the Maharajah of Patiala, with his double pearl earrings bobbing against his black beard, proposed that Premier MacDonald take the chair. Agra Khan, head of the Indian Moslem League, and Great Britain's leading race horse owner, seconded the motion and Mr. MacDonald stepped forward. He spoke, not extemporaneously as usual, but with studied care, reading from a precisely worded address.

"We are met," he said, "to try to register by agreement a recognition of the fact that India has reached a distinctive point in her constitutional evolution. Whatever that agreement may be, some will say that it is not good enough or that it goes too far. Let them say so. We must boldly appeal to an intelligent and informed public opinion."

TROPHY PRESENTATION

George M. Inverarity and J. K. Christison, of Carberry, Manitoba, winners of the Canadian Pacific "Boys' and Girls' week" competition. Predicts Another War

General Ludendorff Sees the Annihilation Of Germany In 1932

Berlin, Germany.—Another great European war in 1932, resulting in the annihilation of Germany, is predicted by General Erich Ludendorff in a pamphlet published recently.

In the 93-page pamphlet, the one-time World War military giant expresses the belief that the war, beginning May 1, 1932, will find Germany, Austria, Hungary, Great Britain and Soviet Russia opposed to France, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Rumania.

He visualizes Germany as the battleground of the nations, with her cities razed by air attacks, her civilian population left to their fate and the nation's youth perishing in masses on the battlefronts.

Although he believes the war will last but a few weeks, he imagines Berlin held in a vice-like grip by the enemy forces, who mercilessly drive the fugitives back into the city's confines to die of starvation.

He sees German culture as receiving its death blow and the terrors of the 30-years' war surpassed.

Vorwarts, in commenting on the pamphlet, recalls that Adolf Hitler, at the time of his abortive speech in November, 1923, selected Ludendorff as his minister of war, with the object of organizing a "war of revenge."

Attempted Assassination

President Cosgrave Of Irish Free State Has Narrow Escape

Dublin, Ireland.—An apparent attempt against the life of William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish Free State, was made on Monday night, November 10, it was learned here.

"The would-be assassins," who had prepared an ambush on the highway leading to Cosgrave's home, opened fire on the motor car carrying the president, and an accompanying car. Bullets struck both machines but none of the occupants were injured.

President Cosgrave was returning to his home in the Fort Dublin mountains at the time of the shooting and was without his usual armed escort. Neither driver was armed and hence no immediate search was made for the gunmen, who fired from behind bushes. One bullet was said to have entered the car very close to where the president was sitting.

Government officials were reported "most disturbed" by the occurrence.

LARGE SUMS FOR PUBLIC WORKS IN THE WEST

Ottawa, Ont.—Details of public works to be undertaken by way of unemployment relief in Western Canada, totalling $1,455,041, were announced by Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor.

The sum of $52,400 is provided for improvements to the Prince Albert National Park in Saskatchewan. In addition $36,841 is provided for road improvements and sewers in municipalities, distributed as follows: City of Swift Current, $29,341; village of Kincaid, $1,500; village of Shellbrook, $2,000; village of Shaunavon, $1,500; village of Sharnbrook, $500; village of Fenit, $1,000; village of Coderre, $1,000.

Works authorized in Manitoba total $235,000, and include the expenditure of $20,000 in improvements to the Riding Mountain National Park. The remainder consists of road improvements in municipalities as follows: Ritchie, $1,250; Tache, $1,250; North Kildonan, $66,000; St. Vital, $25,000; East Kildonan, $114,265; St. Paul, $1,250; Brooklands, $6,250.

The expenditure of money on these works has been approved by the Dominion Government and contributions to the undertakings will be made out of the $20,000,000 unemployment relief fund established by parliament at the recent special session.

The list of works for British Columbia is more extensive than the others because a considerable part of the expenditures in Manitoba and Saskatchewan was announced a week ago and the program of works proposed in the province of Alberta has not yet been completed.

In British Columbia there are still municipal public works amounting to $188,632 and provincial undertakings amounting to $4,000, particulars of which have not been received by the Dominion Government. The expenditures will cover a wide range of works, including road improvements, sewer construction, improvements to national parks, construction of parks, waterworks, airports, sidewalks, school grounds and bridges.

TO BOOST TRADE BETWEEN CANADA AND THE ORIENT

Kobe, Japan.—Five committees from the delegates of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce trade missions are holding a series of conferences with representatives of business men from Kobe and Osaka. The committees were appointed, under the heads of wheat, minerals, lumber, fish, and Canadian imports, and Canadians and Japanese business men are together trying to explore all avenues leading to the accomplishment of the object of the mission, namely, increase of trade between Canada and Japan to the mutual advantage of both.

The mayor and Chamber of Commerce of Osaka entertained the trade delegation today. The vice-president of the chamber and John M. Imrie, Edmonton, luncheon at Kobe on Tuesday and hoped for a continuance of the expansion of trade between the countries. The feature address was given by J. O. Cameron, Victoria.

S. H. Canley, of Montreal, addressed a luncheon at Kobe on Tuesday, and discussed the economic and political development, historic, political and economic.

Following the luncheon the delegates were the guests at a reception given by the Canadian Academy. President of the Academy, Mr. Trench described the beginning and growth of the institution, which was now children of Canadian missionaries. Mr. Imrie expressed the thanks of the delegates for the reception, and remarked that Canada was obviously exporting her hearts and minds and ideals.

The governor of Kansai prefecture, mayor of Kobe, and the local chamber of commerce were hosts to the delegation at a banquet at which Mayne D. Hamilton, Vancouver, gave an address.

Penitentiary Crowded

Saskatchewan Institution At Prince Albert Cramped To The Door

Prince Albert, Sask.—The Saskatchewan penitentiary here is cramped to the doors with 538 prisoners, the greatest number in the history of the institution, and those in charge are beginning to worry about berths for others if the turnover of the courts in Saskatchewan and Alberta continues to be as heavy. Temporary accommodation has been provided for 100 of the men, for whom there are no permanent cells. A new wing, designed to accommodate 200 men, is in the course of construction but will not be ready for at least two years, so little hope of relief is expected from this score.

Canada's Rights Recognized

Title To Northern Islands Formally Announced By Norway

Ottawa, Ont.—The government of Norway has formally recognized the Canadian title to the Arctic Islands commonly known as the Sverdrup Group, comprising Axel Heiberg, Ellef Ringnes, Amund Ringnes and King Christian. This friendly action on the part of the Norwegian government removes for the time being all dispute as to Canadian sovereignty in the whole Arctic section north of the Canadian mainland.

Announcement that Norway has given formal recognition to the Canadian title of the northern islands was made by Sir George Perley, acting prime minister.

Canadian Delegates Welcomed

Kyoto, Japan.—The City of Kyoto welcomed the delegates of the trade mission of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce here. The government, mayor and president of the Chamber of Commerce tendered the delegates a luncheon at the Miyako Hotel and pressed his pleasure at the opportunity of meeting the Canadian representatives.

Bad Season For Fishing

Halifax, N.S.—Further word of poor conditions on the Canadian Labrador were received here with arrival of the trading schooner H. H. McIntosh, Captain Edgar McCarthy said that while the fishing season on the Newfoundland Labrador had been a new record, Canadian territory had experienced one of the worst seasons in its history.

Needed Longer Trip

London, England.—Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, commander of the dirigible R-100, said that if the Imperial Conference had not been in session, officers of the dirigible R-100 would have insisted upon additional flight trials before that ship left on the voyage which ended in the crash near Beauvais, France.
